Note: 1. Results based on low response rates may not reflect the true class mean. Dept mean is for all undergraduate, or all graduate courses, offered by dept and is weighted by class size.
2. Results from cross-listed courses are included in the mean for the department whose course prefix appears first in the alphabet (e.g., for a course listed as HI and REL, the results are included in History's mean). To find the department mean for the other department (in this example, Philosophy and Religion), go to http://www2.acs.ncsu.edu/UPA/classeval/faculty/college_univ_means.htm .

Some student comments:

Paul is very knowledgeable about the material and he cares about student learning. He obviously loves the topic and makes it interesting, even when it isn't always something I think I will like. I learned a lot in this class!

Dr. Umbach is a phenomenal professor. I love his enthusiasm and humor!

Very thoughtful design of the course (every week built on the previous, each reading assignment had a purpose and was useful, we were never given more information to take in than we would need or could use at the time); extremely knowledgeable about the material; very positive in class.

Paul is the best! He is really great at explaining difficult things in a way that is easier to understand. He not only encourages participation but even when you get something wrong, he has a way of correcting you that pushes you to learn more rather than make you feel like you don't know anything. Paul made this subject interesting to learn and I feel that I walked away with a much better understanding on how to critique articles than when I started.
